4. Write the Precis of the following passage and suggest a suitable title— 4
- India, as a nation, never gave much importance to the habit of accumulating things of material value, Instead, it has always valued the qualities that are inherent to a human being. Characteristics like greed, desire, lust and anger are present in every individual but to consider these qualities as the main source of energy and to give in to them gives rise to bad behaviour. India, as a whole, has always considered such negative forces as improper and endeavoured to suppress them. But to ignore hunger, disease or treatment of an individual who has fallen prey to bad habits is highly objectionable.
